No person is allowed to enter the polling booth during polls, except the Polling room Coordinator. The latter also enters only when there is no person in the polling booth casting his or her vote, to check if election materials are still in their positions.

It is prohibited to take photographs in the polling booth or to use telephones in the polling room.

SECTION 2: DEPUTIES ELECTED THROUGH DIRECT ELECTIONS

Article 98: Deputies elected through direct elections

Fifty-three (53) deputies are elected through direct elections by all Rwandans fulfilling the requirements. Candidates elected through a direct elections originate from the political organizations, coalition of political organizations or independent candidates.

Article 99: Listing candidates on the ballot paper

While listing political organizations, coalition of political organizations or independent candidates on the ballot paper, the National Electoral Commission considers the order of receipt of candidatures.

Article 100: Format of a ballot paper for direct elections

A ballot paper for direct elections is comprised of three (3) horizontally arranged boxes indicated as follows:

- 1° The first box contains names of a political organization, coalition of political organizations or an independent candidate;
- 2° The second box contains the logo of a political organization, coalition of political organizations or an independent candidate;
- 3° The third box is reserved for voting.

In case a candidate withdraws his or her parliamentary candidacy, the designed and printed ballot papers shall remain valid and the National Electoral Commission shall communicate the changes to voters by announcements posted at each Polling room or any other communication channels.

The format of the ballot paper for direct elections is on appendix five (5) of these regulations.

Article 101: Folding a ballot paper

A polling assistant in charge of issuing ballot papers shall guide each voter how he or she will fold the ballot paper. The ballot paper shall be folded but unfolded by a polling assistant while giving it to a voter.

When a voter has fingerprinted or ticked in the appropriate box, while still in the polling booth, he or she shall first fold the ballot paper vertically, and then fold it horizontally so as to ensure that it fits in the ballot box. The voter should avoid staining the ballot paper with the ink, which may render it invalid.

Article 102: Voting modalities

A voter fingerprints or ticks in the appropriate box that follows the box with a logo of the political organization, a coalition of political organizations or the independent candidate he or she wishes to vote.

SECTION 3: DEPUTIES ELECTED THROUGH THE INDIRECT ELECTIONS

Article 103: Deputies elected through indirect elections

Twenty Seven (27) Deputies elected through indirect elections comprise of twenty-four (24) female elected according to the administrative entities of the country, two (2) Deputies elected by the National Youth Council, and a Deputy elected by the National Council for Persons with Disabilities.

Article 104: Format of a ballot paper for indirect elections

The ballot paper used in indirect elections is a designed paper bearing a list of candidates in accordance with the order of receipt of candidatures by the National Electoral Commission.

The said ballot paper is comprised of three (3) boxes horizontally arranged as follows:

- 1^o the first box contains a candidate's name;
- 2^o the second box contains a candidate's photograph; and
- 3^o the third box is reserved for voting.

The format of the ballot paper for indirect elections is appendix six (6) of these regulations.

Sub-section 1: Elections of female Deputies

Article 105: Electoral College

The Electoral College for 24 female Deputies is as follows:

- 1) Members of Executive committee of the National Women Council at Village, Cell, Sector, District level within the electoral constituency, members of the Executive Committee at Province or City of Kigali level and National level;
- 2) Members of Sector Councils within the electoral constituency;

3) Members of District Councils within the Province and the City of Kigali.

Article 106: Venue for elections of female deputies

Elections of female deputies scheduled on 04th September, 2018 shall be held at Cell level in a place designated by the National Electoral Commission. Voters who are in the electoral college of female and youth deputies shall cast their votes for both categories at a place designated for youth elections.

Members of the Executive Committee of the National Women Council at different levels shall cast their votes at a polling station located in the cell in which they were first elected.

Members of the District Councils and Sector Councils shall cast their votes in a cell of their choice and the district election coordination shall be notified as such. The said cell shall be within the Sector in which they were elected.

Article 107: Modalities of voting female deputies

During elections of female deputies, the voter affixes his or her fingerprint or ticks in the third box reserved for voting. However, the voter should not exceed the number of deputies allocated to that Province or City of Kigali as set out under Article 103 of these regulations. After casting his or her vote, the voter folds the ballot paper and puts it the ballot box.

Sub-section 2: Election of Deputies representing the youth

Article 108: Electoral College and venue for elections

The electoral college for the two (2) deputies representing the youth is comprised of the Executive Committee of the National Youth Council at the District and National level.

Elections for two deputies representing the youth shall be held on 4th September, 2018 at a place designated by the National Electoral Commission.

Article 109: Modalities of voting Deputies representing Youth

During elections of Deputies representing the youth, the voter affixes his or her fingerprint or ticks in the third box reserved for voting. However, the voter should not exceed two candidates. After casting his or her vote, the voter folds the ballot paper and puts it the ballot box.

Sub-section 3: Election of a Deputy representing Persons with disabilities

Article 110: Electoral College and venue for elections

The electoral college for Persons with disabilities comprise of the following:

Article 111: Modalities of voting a Deputy representing Persons with disabilities

During elections of a Deputy representing Persons with disabilities, the voter affixes his or her fingerprint or ticks in the third box reserved for voting. However, the voter should not vote more than one candidate. After casting his or her vote, the voter folds the ballot paper and puts it the ballot box.

SECTION 4: CLOSURE OF THE POLLS

Article 112: Notice for closure of the polls

At 02:30 pm, a Polling room Coordinator gives a notice reminding voters on the queue and elections officials that the closing time is approaching, and requests them to expedite the process.

Article 113: Time of closure of the polls

Polls close at 03:00 pm. However, voters still on the queue at 03:00pm shall continue to cast their votes. The Polling station Coordinator stops all incoming voters who are not yet on the queue.

Article 114: Suspension of the polls

In case there are reasons necessitating suspension of the polls, the election coordinators notify their hierarchical superiors to make a decision thereof. Before taking any decision in this regard, the Commissioner notifies and seeks guidance from the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission.

The polling station Coordinator prepares a report to that effect in accordance with Appendix seven (7) of these regulations.

In no case shall polls exceed 06:00 pm.

Article 115: Activities following the closure of polls

Upon closure of polls, the Polling room Coordinator shall seal the ballot box publicly and verify the following:

- 1) Number of voters registered on the voters' register of the polling room;
- 2) Number of persons on the voters' register who cast their in the polling room;
- 3) Number of voters that cast their votes in that polling room but who are not registered on its voters' register;
- 4) Number of used ballot papers;
- 5) Number of unused ballot papers.

Following the aforementioned verification, he or she prepares a report closing polls. A format of this report is appendix eight (8) of these regulations.

CHAPTER VIII: VOTE COUNTING AND CONSOLIDATION

Article 116: Commencement of vote counting

Vote counting starts after closure of polls. It is carried in each polling room, by polling assistants under the supervision of the Polling room Coordinator. Before starting the vote counting, the Polling room Coordinator and polling assistants prepare a report on closure of polls and other vote counting related materials.

Vote counting is carried out publicly, in presence of voters, election observers and candidates' representatives, if available.

In case persons stipulated in the preceding paragraph are absent, it shall not impede vote counting or invalidate election results.

Article 117: Succession of vote counting activities

Polling assistants are responsible for counting of votes and take the following steps and in order:

- 1^o to determine the number of voters registered on the voter's register and announce it;
- 2^o to open the ballot box in public, counting the ballot papers and announce their number;
- 3^o one of the polling assistants gives an unfolded ballot paper to a second polling assistant who reads it out in a loud voice. The third polling assistant records the vote on that ballot paper on another paper designed for that purpose and displays it in full view of everyone present or any other means provided for by the National Electoral Commission;
- 4^o when all the ballot papers have been read out, the votes obtained by each candidate or a list of candidates will be counted based on valid ballot papers and invalid ballot papers will be counted as well. Voting room polling assistants approve and sign tally sheets. Signatures of polling assistants are preceded by their full names, the number of their identity cards and the number of their voters' cards.
- 5^o representatives of candidates present may also sign on the tally sheets. Failure to sign on the tally sheets does not invalidate the election results. Declaration of election results is done immediately after completion of vote counting;
- 6^o Polling assistants consolidate all results from vote counting;
- 7^o the polling room coordinator and polling assistants, prepare two (2) copies of a statement on the conduct of elections on appropriate forms containing the following:
 - a) the time of opening and closure of polls, the state of compliance with formalities provided for by these regulations and incidents which occurred during the electoral process if any;
 - b) the signature of the polling officers of the polling room, candidates or their representatives and of representatives of lists of candidates.

8^o the coordinator of the polling room prepares two (2) copies of the statement, including one which is put in an envelope sealed and put in a ballot box of the polling room together with valid, unused and invalid ballot papers and gives them to the polling station coordinator. The coordinator of the polling room submits another copy of the statement to the polling station coordinator. The polling station coordinator collects all the electoral results by means of statements from polling rooms, makes their statement thereof, puts it in an envelope sealed and stamped before the public. The statement is sent to the coordinator of electoral operations at the district level through the coordinator of electoral operations at the Sector level.

9° the statement reserved for the coordinator of polling operations at the district level must contain the following:

- a) the number of registered voters who are authorized to vote;
- b) the number of voters who cast their votes;
- c) the number of voters who cast their votes not registered on the voter's register of that polling room;
- d) the number of ballot papers received;
- e) the number of valid and invalid ballot papers;
- f) the number of documents relating to complaints received, if any;
- g) the number of tally sheets;
- h) the number of unused ballot papers.

Article 118: Invalid ballot paper

A ballot paper is considered as invalid if:

- 1) it is not in compliance with the provisions of the Organic Law governing elections and these regulations;
- 2) it bears signs not provided by laws and regulations governing elections;
- 3) it does not clearly indicate the elected candidate or in case the voter disclosed his or her identity on the ballot paper;
- 4) it is returned in the ballot box without indicating any choice of candidate;
- 5) it bears additions;
- 6) It is used to vote a candidate who withdrew his or her candidature or disqualified;
- 7) A voter affixed his or her fingerprint or ticks between two (2) candidates.

Article 119: A sign considered as a candidate's vote

When the sign used during the voting is placed in the appropriate box next to the candidate's name, on the candidate's name, his or her logo or his or her photograph, shall be considered as a candidate vote.

Article 120: Suspension of vote counting

Vote counting shall not be stopped; it shall be done until completed unless if there are special reasons and the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission shall be notified as provided by Article 114 of these regulations.

A report for suspension of vote counting shall be done. The format of the said report is appendix nine (9) of these regulations.

Article 121: Announcing election results from a polling room

When vote counting is completed, the polling room coordination immediately announces publicly election results from that polling room.

The information announced is the following:

- 1) the number of voters registered on the list of that polling room;
- 2) the number of voters who cast their votes registered on the list of that polling room;
- 3) the number of voters who cast their votes not registered on the list of that polling room;
- 4) the number of ballot papers used;
- 5) the number of votes for each candidate;
- 6) the number of invalid votes;
- 7) the number of unused ballot papers.

After verifying numbers stipulated in the second paragraph of this Article, election officials prepare a report of vote counting in that polling room and fill the form on appendix ten (10) of these regulations.

Election officials shall write their names on the report of vote accounting and duly sign it.

Article 122: Consolidation of election results at a polling station

Consolidation of election results from polling rooms is carried out by the polling station Coordinator, together with coordinators of polling rooms.

Consolidation of election results is carried out based on election results from polling rooms within that polling station.

Consolidation of election results at polling station level indicates the following numbers:

- 1) the number of voters on the list of polling rooms of the polling station;
- 2) the number of voters who cast their votes registered on the list of polling rooms of the polling station;
- 3) the number of voters who cast their votes not registered on the list of polling rooms of the polling station;
- 4) the number of valid ballot papers at the polling station level;
- 5) the number of votes for each candidate at the polling station level;
- 6) the number of invalid ballot papers at the polling station level;
- 7) the number of unused ballot papers at the polling station level.

The Polling station Coordinator announces publicly election results of that polling station, and prepares a report to that effect on basis of a format set out in appendix eleven (11) of these regulations.

After consolidation of election results from the polling station, the Polling station Coordinator puts the report in an appropriate envelope, writes the name and number of the polling station, seals and stamps it, and sends it to the Election Coordinator at the Sector level, and the latter transmits it to the District election Coordinator.

Article 123: Consolidation of election results at District and National level

After consolidation of votes of each candidate from polling stations in the District, the District Election Coordinator announces publicly election results, and prepares the relevant report which is transmitted to the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission in a sealed and stamped envelope or by any other quick means approved by the National Electoral Commission. The said report is done using a format set out as appendix twelve (12) of attached to these regulations.

The Chairman of the National Electoral Commission consolidates election results from all Districts and diplomatic missions of the Republic Rwanda. The format of the document used for consolidation of election results at National level is on appendix thirteen (13) of these regulations.

Article 124: Consolidation election results for female Deputies

After closure of polls, the Polling station Coordinator together with polling assistants consolidate election results and prepare a report that indicates the following:

- 1) the number of voters registered on voters' register;
- 2) the number of voters who cast their votes;
- 3) the number of ballot papers received;
- 4) the number of responsive voters;
- 5) the number of valid ballot papers;
- 6) the number of invalid ballot papers;
- 7) the number of unused ballot papers.
- 8) the number of votes for each candidate.

The Polling station Coordinator announces election results to persons present. The Polling station Coordinator puts a report of results in an appropriate envelope and stamps it publicly, writes the name of the polling station, seals and transmits it to the Election Coordinator at the Sector level.

After consolidating votes of each candidate from Cells comprising the Sector, the election Coordinator at Sector level announces election results publicly, and prepares a report which is transmitted to the district election coordinator.

The district election coordinator, after consolidation of votes of each candidate from Sectors comprising the district, he or she announces election results publicly and prepares a report. The said report is put in a sealed envelope and sent to the Provincial/City of Kigali election coordinator.

After consolidating votes of each candidate from different districts comprising the Province or City of Kigali, the Provincial/City of Kigali election coordinator announces election results publicly and prepares a report which is sent to the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission in sealed and stamped envelope. He or she may also use other possible means approved by the National Electoral Commission.

The format of report used for consolidation of results for indirect elections is appendix fourteen (14) of these regulations.

Article 125: Consolidation of results for Deputies representing the youth

After election of two (2) Deputies representing the youth, the Polling station Coordinator in collaboration with polling assistants consolidate election results and prepare a report that includes the following:

- 1) the number of voters expected to cast their votes registered on the voters' register;
- 2) the number of voters who cast their votes;
- 3) the number of ballot papers received;
- 4) the number of responsive voters;
- 5) the number of valid ballot papers;
- 6) the number of invalid ballot papers;
- 7) the number of unused ballot papers;
- 8) the number of votes for each candidate.

The Polling station Coordinator shall announce the election results publicly. The Polling station Coordinator puts the report in a sealed envelope, stamps it publicly and transmits it to the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission.

Article 126: Consolidation of election results of a Deputy representing persons with disabilities

After elections for the Deputy representing persons with disabilities, the Polling station Coordinator in collaboration with polling assistants consolidates election results and prepares a report that should include the following:

- 1) the number of voters expected to cast their votes registered on the voters' register;
- 2) the number of voters who cast their votes;
- 3) the number of ballot papers received;
- 4) the number of responsive voters;
- 5) the number of valid ballot papers;
- 6) the number of invalid ballot papers;
- 7) the number of unused ballot papers; and
- 8) the number of votes for each candidate.

The Polling station Coordinator shall announce the election results publicly. The Polling station Coordinator puts the report in a well-sealed envelope, stamps it publicly and sends it to the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission.

Following vote counting, the District Election Coordinator sends the election results to the election coordinator at Provincial/City of Kigali level. The latter consolidates the said election results from districts within that Province/City of Kigali and transmits them to Chairman of the National Electoral Commission.

Article 127: Publication of consolidated election results

Consolidated election results are posted at each level where the consolidation of election results took place.

Article 128: Archiving of ballot papers

After vote counting, each box containing used and unused ballot papers is sealed using appropriate seals. Ballot boxes containing election related documents are archived in place designated by the National Electoral Commission until the final publication of results.

Article 129: Successful candidates in indirect elections

Successful candidates in indirect elections are those candidates who obtain the highest number of votes in accordance with the number of Deputies for that electoral constituency.

However, in case some candidates obtain an equal number of votes while competing for the last slot, another round of elections is conducted for those candidates within a period not exceeding forty eight (48) hours and in such cases, voters are required vote only one candidate.

Elections are repeated only once and if they obtain an equal number of votes again, the winner is decided by drawing lots in compliance with provisions of Article 130 of these regulations.

Article 130: Modalities of conducting such elections

While conducting elections by drawing lots, election officials prepare a number of papers equivalent to the number of persons who obtained the same votes. One paper of the papers is written on “YES” while others are written on “NO”. Only candidates with equal votes participate in this exercise. Papers are picked in accordance with the order of the candidates’ family names. The successful candidate is the one who picks a paper bearing “YES”.

Article 131: Announcement of election results and the period

The Chairman of the National Electoral Commission announces provisional and final election results through media, audio and visual or any other communication channels. Announcement of provisional election results shall be done within five (5) days following the elections. The Chairman of the National Electoral Commission shall announce final election results within seven (7) days following the publication of provisional results.

Article 132: Resolving election related complaints

In case of any election related complaint, the concerned persons address it to the National Electoral Commission officials of the place where elections were held.

When the complaint is not resolved, it is referred to the hierarchical superior level of the National Electoral Commission, and in case it is not resolved at that level, the complaint is filed to a competent court.

CHAPTER IX: ELECTION PROCESS IN DIASPORA

Article 133: Venue and date for elections held in Diaspora

In Diaspora, elections of Deputies elected through direct elections shall be held on 2nd September, 2018 at Rwandan diplomatic missions or any other venue designated by the Embassy after consultations with the National Electoral Commission.

Article 134: Commencement and closure of polls

In Diaspora, polls begin at 07:00 am and are closed at 03:00 pm local time of each Country. However, in case the electoral coordinator notices that there are still incoming voters, and upon notification of the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission, he or she shall extend the voting time.

However, in no case shall elections exceed mid night (12:00am) local time.

Article 135: Eligible voters in Diaspora

In order to be allowed to vote, a Rwandan in diaspora shall be registered on the voters' register and hold at least one of the documents issued by competent Rwandan administrative authorities. Those documents include:

- 1) the National Identity card;
- 2) a passport or Consular card; and
- 3) voter's card.

In case he or she does not possess a voter's card, election officials verify if he or she is on the voters' register.

A registered voter travelling abroad on the Election Day shall be allowed to cast his or her vote within the Rwandan diplomatic mission of his or her country of residence after presenting his or her travel documents and the voter's card or a document issued by an election zone coordinator attesting that he or she is registered voter.

Article 136: Election officials in Diaspora

The Ambassador is the election Coordinator within the jurisdiction of the Rwandan diplomatic mission. In case of his or her absence, a person who replaces him/her assumes such responsibilities.

Elections in Diaspora are conducted by Rwanda diplomatic mission officials or other Rwandan volunteers who are eligible to vote, appointed by the election coordinator of respective diplomatic missions and notified to the National Electoral Commission for their approval at least ten (10) days before the election day.

Article 137: Vote counting and consolidation of election results in Diaspora

Though voting in Diaspora is scheduled on 02/09/2018, vote counting and consolidation of election results shall be carried out on 03/09/2018 after 03:00 pm Rwandan time.

The election coordinator shall submit election results to the Chairman of the National Electoral Commission not later than twelve (12) hours after vote counting, by means determined by the National Electoral Commission.

Article 138: Archiving electoral materials

After elections at each polling station, all used election materials shall be gathered. All used ballot papers and reports regarding the election process shall be archived until the announcement of final election results.

A document indicating the type and number of materials that may be used in future elections shall be prepared and archived at the Embassy.

CHAPTER X: MISCELLANEOUS AND FINAL PROVISIONS

Article 139: Organs responsible for investigating violations of laws and regulations governing elections

At each polling station, the polling station coordinator has the right, after drawing up a statement, to request security organs to arrest and conduct investigation against any one, who violated or is suspected of violating the provisions of laws and regulations governing elections. The format for this statement is appendix fifteen (15) of these regulations.

In case there is violation of laws and regulations within the jurisdiction of the Rwanda diplomatic mission, the concerned election coordinator shall seek assistance from the security organs of the country where elections are being held.

Article 140: Additional instructions

The National Electoral Commission may issue other instructions complementing these instructions, whenever deemed necessary.

Article 141: Compliance with these regulations

With exception of special provisions relating to elections held within Rwanda, other provisions of these regulations apply equally in Rwanda and Rwandan diplomatic missions.

Article 142: Repealing of provisions

All prior legal provisions contrary to these regulations are hereby repealed.

Article 143: Commencement

These regulations shall come into force on the date of their publication in the Official Gazette of the Republic of Rwanda.
